Did you know?

Did you know that the Immune System is the body's natural internal defense force? It produces and sends into action specialized cells responsible for defending the body against invaders like bacteria and viruses. These cells are like well-trained warriors tasked with defending the temple. However, they can only do their jobs well if they are properly equipped. Therefore, it's important to get daily nutrients to support your immune system.

Directions: Take 3 capsules with a meal or as directed by your healthcare practitioner.

Caution

If you are pregnant, nursing or on medication, or have a medical condition, consult your physician before use. Do not use if seal is broken or missing.
